

Vinyl is #1

More Americans choose vinyl siding for their homes than any other exterior cladding. Like you, they prefer to spend their time enjoying their home, not maintaining it.

Lowest installed cost

Vinyl siding costs less to install than other exterior cladding including fiber cement, stucco, wood, brick and stone¹.

Returns your investment

According to the latest study, homeowners who resided their home with vinyl recouped approximately 73 percent of the installation cost when they sold their home².
